Harmony On Defense Under Pact

American Joint Chiefs of Staff Agree With Britain, Norway, Denmark

By William N. Oatis

LONDON, Aug. 4—(P)—American joint chiefs of staff have reached a complete understanding with Britain, Norway and Denmark on organization for mutual defense under the Atlantic Pact, Adm. Louis E. Denfeld announced today.

"We are going home, I am sure, with a very much better understanding of the situation than we had when we came over," the U. S. chief of naval operations told a news conference following meetings with Norwegian and Danish military commanders.

Adm. Denfeld spoke for the joint chiefs.

The subject of sharing the atom bomb with other Atlantic treaty signatories was not mentioned in the staff talks, Denfeld told a questioner.

No General Discussion

"There was no general discussion of arms aid," he added. "Our purpose in coming here was to exchange ideas on proper organization."

Gen. O. E. Berg, chief of the Norwegian joint services, told the reporters:

"We have discussed definite defense programs and we are finding a very good solution to our problem."

Denfeld told the reporters a defense organization might be functioning by the end of this year. He added this was just a guess, based on a feeling that "we were getting along so well it would not be too tough to work out an organization by that time."

The naval chief said the U. S. commanders did not come here with any ready made plan. Rather, he said, the mission was to exchange views and report back to the U. S. government.

Bradley Silent

U. S. Army Gen. Omar Bradley, emerging with Denfeld from the heavily guarded conference room, declined to discuss what form the Atlantic Pact defense plan would take, who might be its commander or where its headquarters might be.

In France, where the staff chiefs will be at week's end, conferences will be held at Fontainebleau with British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery and with commanders from France, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands—the other members of the western European union.

Sedalians as MU Graduates

Mail Carrier Addresses Kiwanis Club

Tells of Postal Service, Rural Free Delivery

"The Postal Service and Rural Free Delivery" was the subject of a talk by Paul G. Benson, Sedalia, rural mail carrier and National Committeeman of the Rural Letter Carriers' Association, before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club in Bothwell Thursday noon.

The speaker told of the origin and development of the vast and intricate system that serves the American public daily, and explained the administrative set-up in Washington.

The text of Mr. Benson's talk is of sufficient public interest that it will be reproduced in the Democrat and Capital in a subsequent issue.

The Rev. H. U. Campbell was acting program chairman.

New Club Member

Dr. John E. Lamy became a new member of the club. He was induced by Rev. Mr. Campbell, assisted by W. M. Johns, whose granddaughter is the wife of Dr. Lamy. Following this ceremony the club in song recognized the birthday anniversary of Mr. Johns, a charter club member, who is now 83 years old.

Club guests were O. W. Brunkhorst, Denison, Texas, with his brother Harry Brunkhorst, and former club member Joe Rosenthal, Kansas City.

Downtown Stores Open Tonight

Tonight most of the Sedalia merchants are giving the citizens of Sedalia and the surrounding communities the opportunity to shop on a mid-week night and many people are expected to be in the downtown district to take advantage of this new privilege.

The new mid-week shopping night is being tried by most of merchants during the months of August and September and if it proves successful may become a regular custom. Stores will be open tonight and every Thursday night for these two months until 9:00 o'clock.

President Did Not Receive Any Matches From J. V. Hunt

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(P)—Pres. Truman said today he is not acquainted with James V. Hunt, a former army officer who has been mentioned in a Senate committee's inquiry into operations of "five percents."

Mr. Truman made the statement at his news conference when he was told that a case of 2,500 books of matches inscribed, "Swiped these from Harry S. Truman" was purchased last December by Hunt from the Universal Match company of St. Louis.

The president said anybody could purchase those matches. He added, in answer to questions, that matches he frequently passes to White House guests were not given him by Hunt.

He said the reporters' information that Hunt had made the

United States Will Publish A White Paper

On Its Relations With China to Explain Situation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(P)—President Truman said today the United States will publish a white paper on its relations with China to clear up "misrepresentation, distortion, and misunderstanding."

In a formal statement, the president said the friendship between the United States people and the people of China "is as strong today as it has ever been."

He said the problem is to find ways "to give practical expression to that friendship" and that this is receiving "the closest attention of this government."

The statement was given out at his weekly news conference.

A reporter recalled that there has been criticism that the United States government has been "too slow" in its aid to the Chinese Nationalist government because of reported Communist influences within the State Department.

Erroneous Criticism

Mr. Truman said that this entirely erroneous criticism would be covered in the volume the State Department is publishing tomorrow.

He said in his statement that some of the "misrepresentation, arose because this government distortion and misunderstanding" was reluctant to reveal certain facts, the publication of which might have served to hasten the events in China which have now occurred."

The president said, under questioning, that the white paper on China would include the Wedemeyer report as well as reports made by former Secretary of State Marshall when he went to China as a special ambassador for the president.

The Wedemeyer report, so-called because it was prepared by Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, has been under administration study for some time but has not been made public.

Mutual Interests

In his statement, the president said that the mutual interests of the United States and China "require full and frank discussion of the facts."

"It is only in this way that the people of our country and their representatives in Congress can have the understanding necessary to the sound evolution of our foreign policy in the Far East," he said.

He added that the report covers our relations with China dating back to the 1840's. It not only includes the Wedemeyer and Marshall reports, but also the reports of Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, former ambassador to China.

He would not say whether any new steps were proposed in the document. He held up a heavy volume which he said was being made available to newspapermen today.

He said that if the reporters read it and understood it, they would know as much about Chinese policy as he did and he thought he knew more about it than anybody else right now.

It was a girl. Mrs. Schiller slapped its back. The baby began to wail.

"I was faint with relief. I slapped my own back," Mrs. Schiller related. "Then I looked around and—oh, oh, oh! It was another baby coming."

"I went to work again. Told Sol to call an ambulance, call the police, call somebody."

She was another girl. She arrived at about the same time as two policemen and a doctor, who took over.

An ambulance took Mrs. Lewis and the twins—who were premature and weighed three pounds 12 ounces each—to a hospital. The babies were placed in an incubator.

"All doing fine," the hospital reported later.

"I feel a little better myself now," Mrs. Schiller said. "But for a while there—my goodness and me with three children of my own!"

Dies of Polio

MACON, Mo., Aug. 4—(P)—Florence Virginia Mason, 2, of Biever, died of polio in a Kirksville hospital yesterday. It was the first polio death of the year for Macon county. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mason.

Kids Helped Deliver Twins

NEW YORK, Aug. 4—(P)—"Help!" pleaded Sol Lewis of the Bronx.

Upstairs scurried Mrs. Norman Schiller, friend and neighbor. In the bedroom she found Mrs. Lewis—and a little Lewis about to be born.

The Rev. H. U. Campbell was acting program chairman.

Business Will Hold For Time

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(P)—Signs built up today of a breathing spell—but probably not a permanent halt—in business downtown that has run through 1949 so far.

A consensus produced by a top-flight official group of economists working as a team boiled down—with some "ifs"—attached—to this:

1. The immediate outlook is that economic activity will hold at the mid-year level for the July-August-September quarter, and perhaps may rise a bit in September.

2. Longer-range prospects are darker, because it seems that, on the whole, fundamental readjustment has not been completed and employment, production, income and prices may continue to drift downwards from October through mid-1950.

The men who drew up this appraisal would not be quoted by name.

Bond Issue Defeated

GALT, Mo., Aug. 4—(P)—Citizens here yesterday defeated by one and one-third votes—a proposed $2,000 bond issue to buy firefighting equipment.

The vote was 44 in favor and 24 against. A two-thirds majority was required.

Car Kills Child

MAYVIEW, Mo., Aug. 4—(P)—The family car, parked in the driveway, rolled down an incline and killed Carol Eunice Watson, 21 months old, at her home near here yesterday.

She was the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Watson. The father is superintendent of Mayview schools and pastor of the Baptist church here.

Senate investigators, meanwhile indicated the first phase of the public inquiry into the activities of "five percents" will deal with army buying.

Garlic-Like Odor Pervaded Much Of Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4—(P)—A foul, garlic-like odor pervaded much of Los Angeles early today.

The odor—which extended from downtown Los Angeles to Pasadena—caused hundreds of people to call newspapers and the police.

There were no hospitalizations reported although many of the callers reported they had difficulty breathing because of the foul air.

The Southern California Gas Co. sent out emergency crews to find leaks in mains but found none. A gas company spokesman said the odor was similar to that in oil refinery areas and that fog prevented the fumes from being dispersed.

Yesterday water in an outdoor swimming pool turned orange and started bubbling, its noxious fumes overcome more than 100 bathers. Twenty-four were hospitalized.

Amund Gautier, pool manager, blamed chlorine gas. He said a pipe, carrying the gas into the pool, must have become clogged temporarily and then let out the gas faster than the water could absorb it.

Eroneous Criticism

Mr. Truman said that this entirely erroneous criticism would be covered in the volume the State Department is publishing tomorrow.

He said in his statement that some of the "misrepresentation, arose because this government distortion and misunderstanding" was reluctant to reveal certain facts, the publication of which might have served to hasten the events in China which have now occurred."

The president said, under questioning, that the white paper on China would include the Wedemeyer report as well as reports made by former Secretary of State Marshall when he went to China as a special ambassador for the president.

Charged With Taking Little Daughter From Foster Parents

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 4—(P)—A judge offered Mrs. Nellie Beshears her freedom today if she would tell where she has hidden her 7-year-old daughter she is accused of stealing.

She turned it down.

The 29-year-old mother went to jail a week ago, charged with stealing the child—Jeraline—from its foster parents.

Mutual Interests

In his statement, the president said that the mutual interests of the United States and China "require full and frank discussion of the facts."

The president said, under questioning, that the white paper on China would include the Wedemeyer report as well as reports made by former Secretary of State Marshall when he went to China as a special ambassador for the president.

Loves The Child

The mother shook her head vigorously.

Her attorney said: "she loves the child and wants to keep her—she loves her enough to stay in jail."

Her preliminary hearing came up today in common pleas court. Judge Stanley Edmister suggested Mrs. Beshears could be released without bond if she would turn her daughter over to the Whitleys.

Denies Selling Services

The Star said Hunt declined emphatically that he has not sold his services to clients on the basis of inside information or inside contracts. He added:

"I don't know of anybody in government who can be influenced in the slightest degree."

The Star said Hunt was asked whether friendship with Feldman helped him work out a deal whereby the army agreed to repossess $400,000 worth of DDT bombs. The newspaper quoted Hunt as replying:

"These people (not further identified) came to me and said they had bought from WAA slightly over 1,000,000 aerosol bombs. While they had sold some, they still had almost 1,000,000 left."

They had paid 40 cents apiece for them and told WAA had sold another quantity of them for 28 cents. The rug was pulled out from under them and they still had $400,000 worth. They wanted to turn her daughter over to the Whitleys.

Hunt said he did not understand when she signed adoption papers that she was giving up the child permanently. She charged Whitleys refused to let her see her daughter.

They said they did not deny her permission to see the child, only refused to let her take the girl to her rooms.

Her attorney indicated he may file a writ of habeas corpus in district court to establish custody of the child.

Wedding To Be Public

Want-Ad Finds Girl Willing To Wed Ex-Soldier

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 4.—(P)—Charles Donaldson advertised for a wife Tuesday and got a huge public response, so now he's planning a public wedding.

From among the hundreds of applicants who answered the want-ad, he chose Miss Irene Krebs, 18, Wednesday.

"I've signed a contract with a manager to stage the wedding Saturday night," Donaldson said tonight. "I don't know where it will be. We can't get the ball park or municipal auditorium. My manager will take care of the arrangements."

The 22-year-old former soldier in the Fifth Air Force said his partner in a general contracting service, Orville Montimore, also had signed the contract to make it a double wedding.

Donaldson came home from the service to find most of his old girl friends had moved away or had married. Montimore was getting married Saturday night and wanted to make it a double ceremony but Donaldson lacked a bride.

"Wanted: girl, under 21, to get married by Saturday," read the ad. Charles was swamped with calls. "The response was terrific," he said.

Swamped Dial System
He added that he didn't get a chance to keep track of the number which swamped the dial system. Some callers admitted they were over 21. Some said they were 15.

To prove it wasn't a gag Charles agreed to meet one of the callers at a drug store last night. She was Miss Krebs, with black hair and blue eyes.

He walked in and out of the place four times, before Miss Krebs revealed her identity.

He said she later told him that "She hoped I was the fellow after she saw me the first time."

At first Charles declined to disclose the girl's name because he was afraid her parents might object.

But later Wednesday Charles said Miss Krebs' had given him their consent.

"I haven't met her folks or told my folks about it yet," he said.

When asked where they planned to live after the wedding, Donaldson replied:

"We'll let that take care of itself when the time comes."

Girl Against The Channel:

Eating is Mighty Big Problem To Distance Swimmer Shirley

DURING DISTANCE SWIMS, Shirley can't touch the boat while she eats. Here she shows how she comes up to grab her liquid formula snack from her coach, Harry Boudakian.

By SHIRLEY MAY FRANCE As told to Richard Kleiner

Eating is a mighty important problem for a distance swimmer. I dearly love French fried potatoes, but I won't be able to order them until I've finished my attempt to swim the English Channel.

All fried foods are out of my training diet. Likewise ice cubes, soda pop and candy. I envy kids who can have them, but I've got a job to do. I drink only milk.

Everything I eat must be broiled or boiled. Nothing can be greasy. Nothing can be heavily seasoned.

Almost every dinner I tuck away a pound and a half of steak because the nourishment I need most is protein. My baggage includes 60 pounds of steaks and chops and six dozen hard-boiled eggs, put on the boat in New York, because we weren't sure what we could get in England. And anyway we didn't want to take any more food than necessary out of the English fare.

Eating while swimming is a bigger problem. After four hours, you get pretty hungry and as the hours go by, you get hungrier still.

The rules of most distance swimming associations forbid the swimmer from touching the boat while eating, so you have to grab your food from your coach's hand.

About every four hours in the water, I stop to eat. I generally switch to a side stroke for that. My food is a bottle of a special liquid formula, devised by a chemist. The main ingredient is glucose, and the stuff looks and tastes something like malted milk. It's good, and it's filling.

Once in a while, too, I'll be given a chocolate bar. That's good for energy, but I can't have the kind with almonds in them.

When you think of a distance swim, like the English Channel, it's misleading when someone tells you the distance is 19 miles, which is the accepted Channel distance. Actually, you never swim in a straight line. In the first place you cannot naturally swim straight, any more than you can walk straight over a long period of time. In the second place, there are tides to be considered, and you have to more or less zigzag to take advantage of them.

Actually, therefore, you usually have to add three or four miles on to the distance. Before I get through with the Channel, I'll probably have covered about 22

Had To Dismore To Get Pictures

DENVER, Aug. 4—(P)—A reporter and photographer from the Denver Post had to take off their clothing to get pictures and a story of the nudists' conference here.

Neither Dave Mathias nor his companion, reporter Blaine Little, wanted to return to the office empty-handed. So they obeyed orders to strip.

Little's account of the incident:

"They let us keep on our shoes and socks. They told us to tuck our matches and cigarettes in our socks."

"Following directions we disrobed in the men's dormitory. Minutes later we emerged, Mathias cowering behind his speed graphic camera and this reporter fluttering his note paper like a fan dancer."

"The first moment was like one of those dreams in which you lose your pants on a crowded streetcar. x x x After that it was a cinch. Nothing to it. All you miss are pockets."

Quirk of Fate Brings Father, Son Together

Separated When Father Disappeared 45 Years Ago

DETROIT Aug. 4.—(P)—An ailing man's long search for the son he left 43 years ago seemed hopeless. He feared he would die before he found him.

Then, by a strange quirk of fate, a tramp on a San Francisco dock offered to sell him a worn Detroit telephone directory. He bought it for 25 cents.

Because of that, William Geddes, 67, is going to see his son again.

Detroit Attorney Harold Geddes, 44, told today how he talked by phone with his father, who is in a San Francisco hospital.

"For the first few seconds he couldn't say anything but hello," Harold said. "He was all choked up. Then he told me some of the things that had happened."

Disappeared in 1906

The elder Geddes, a railroad engineer, disappeared mysteriously from his home in Rochester, N. Y., in 1906. He left behind his wife, now dead, remarried.

William told his son he had gone to California, found another wife and started life anew. He had a son and daughter by his second wife.

During World War II, he joined the Merchant Marine, serving throughout the war in combat areas of the Pacific.

After the war, he was stricken with a heart ailment. Gradually the thought that he might die soon aroused in him a desire to find his former family.

Wrote to Police

He started writing letters to police departments in eastern cities asking them to help. He wrote 112 letters in all, but each was a new disappointment.

Then he bought that phone directory. Listed there was a "Harold Geddes." Before the father and son made connections, the elder man suffered another heart attack and entered the hospital. He spoke with his son from there.

Excitement Too Much

They were only able to talk a few minutes. William told Harold:

"All this excitement has made me pretty tired. I guess I'd better go lie down now."

Harold said today he was waiting for his father to improve. After that he will decide whether to go west or have William come to Detroit.

Reserves of Butter Ample

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(P)—Reserves of butter now appear to be ample to protect consumers against a sharp price advance next fall and winter.

Agriculture department reports indicate that private and government holdings are equivalent to slightly more than one month's needs. This is the biggest reserve for this time of the year since before the war.

Since wartime price controls were removed, there has been a tendency for butter prices to decline in the spring season of heaviest production and to shoot up in the fall and winter season of lowest production.

This sharply variable price pattern reflected the fact that production, which dropped to abnormally low levels during the war, had not caught up with demand. During the war, a much greater portion of the milk supply was consumed as fluid milk rather than in the form of butter and other manufactured dairy products.

Butter production has made a material increase this year. Output in the spring and early summer increased to a point where prices threatened to break sharply.

Better Nursing Reduces Bad Effects of Polio

(Editor's Note: This is the first of three articles by an AP Science Editor Howard W. Blakeslee, explaining what is known about infantile paralysis, how you can take precautions against catching the disease, and what to do if it strikes your family.)

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—(AP)—Children have had polio—infantile paralysis—since ancient times. Today a higher proportion recover without crippling.

This is the only gain, and all in the present century. The gain comes from better nursing, and not from anything else.

Almost everyone has had polio, but only a few become sick. How the disease works in most of us who don't get ill is entirely unknown.

But what happens in the sick is well known. It is in your spinal cord. This cord is the cable carrying nerves from the brain to branch out, like switchboard wires, to all parts of your body.

Nerves Govern Muscles

One set of nerves in this cord governs muscles. Polio chooses, for some mysterious reason, to attack these particular nerves and no others. These nerves are made of horn-shaped cells.

Polio damages or destroys horn cells. Among all nerves, these horn cells alone are unable to regenerate themselves. Once gone, they break the muscle—nerve cable for life.

Without these nerves in the spine, muscles shrink. No other part of your body is damaged.

Polio can strike at any point along the spinal cable. If it hits high up, it paralyzes arms and hands. If in the mid-spine, polio hits the muscles of breathing. If low down, it paralyzes leg muscles.

There is an additional point of attack, in the "bulb," a rounded thing, half the size of the thumb, at the top of your spine. This location of polio brings most of the deaths.

Caused by a Virus

The cause of polio is a virus, a very tiny particle made of protein. How this particle does its destruction is unknown.

Two kinds of polio virus are known. More are suspected. You can have polio more than once, one attack for each kind of virus.

In epidemics, those who recover without any bad effects, range from 40 to 70 per cent. Sometimes there will be 70 per cent complete recoveries without any medical care whatever. Sometimes the death rates and crippling are high, despite care.

This contradiction is due to the fact that polio virus being different from year to year, sometimes virulent and sometimes mild.

In epidemics, hardly more than one child in 300 gets visible polio. The highest susceptibility is from ages four to nine. But polio can hit adults, and recently in the United States the adult victims have been increasing.

Two Special Aids

Nursing care, to help the body fight its own battle, is all that can be done in polio. There are two special aids. One is heat. The other, movement of stricken muscles. Both are Sister Elizabeth Kenny's contributions and have done more than anything else to reduce crippling. Others than Sister Kenny knew the merits of these two treatments, but she was the person who did most to convince doctors. Both treat the paralyzed muscles and not the horn cells. Nothing now known does any good for the stricken cells in spinal cords.

Early diagnosis—detecting the disease—is the most important single thing to be done. And the most difficult. The only scientific proof is to use spinal cord fluid to make a monkey sick. This test takes weeks and hundreds of dollars. A recent French test promises to do something similar with mice in two weeks. Both are slow to help your child.

Keen doctors and nurses have to make the decision with the eyes of experience.

Tomorrow—how to keep from getting polio.

As the grown-up silhouette goes so goes the pint-size mode. This year cape collars are big stuff for Mama, and small daughter has her own edition on her 1960 coat.

For trimmings also are important in the winter picture for stylewise women, and fur trimmings pop up on schedule also for the pigtail crowd.

Fabrics are of first importance in the overall fall and winter picture for adult pace-setters and fabrics are making news in the small fry style lineup also. This fall you'll find handsome broadcloth done up in dressy coats for daughters as well as for mothers. You'll be seeing new American-made tweeds for both big and little fashion leaders. ## Hal Boyle Says

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, Aug. 4—(P)—Every year or so a man opens his morning mail and finds a pleasant surprise — or a real opportunity. That's how lucky I am today. I've got a chance to take a free ride to Mars!

Each day I get all sorts of odd invitations. One day somebody wants me to go over to the Waldorf-Astoria to attend a cocktail party for a new tractor. Another day an opportunity comes to be a judge in a contest to "pick the most beautiful pigeon in America." It turned out to be a complete waste of time — all the pigeons had feathers.

First Offer

But this is the first time anybody ever offered me a hitch-hike ride to Mars. I would be suspicious that somebody was just pulling my leg except for one thing — the man who made the offer said he had already been there himself. So it must be the 24-karat McCoy.

The invitation came in a letter from a gentleman in Missouri and his first name isn't Harry.

"I have just come back from Mars, and I had a wonderful trip," he wrote. He explained he wanted me to accompany him on his second trip, because he wished the people of earth to have a word picture of life on Mars. He said that as a professional writer I would be able to do this better than he.

Sounded Attractive

The voyage certainly sounded attractive as he outlined it.

"We will be gone only a few days," he wrote, "for the simple reason that our rocket ship begins to gain speed as soon as it leaves the atmosphere, and we travel about as fast as light."

"The only hazardous part of this trip would be in landing when we get there. However, our pilot is so efficient that, when we strike the atmosphere of Mars, he can sail about the planet three or four times until our speed is slow enough to make a smooth landing."

What is Mars like? Here's what the man says:

"I'll not go much into the details of the conditions that I found there, because it was more wonderful than my vocabulary is capable of telling you.

"The planet revolves as ours does, but in place of having a magnetic pole, it also revolves north to south, which makes the temperature uniform the year round."

Glorious Temperature

"There are no seasons. It is all just one glorious temperature. They have no pests, such as flies and fleas.

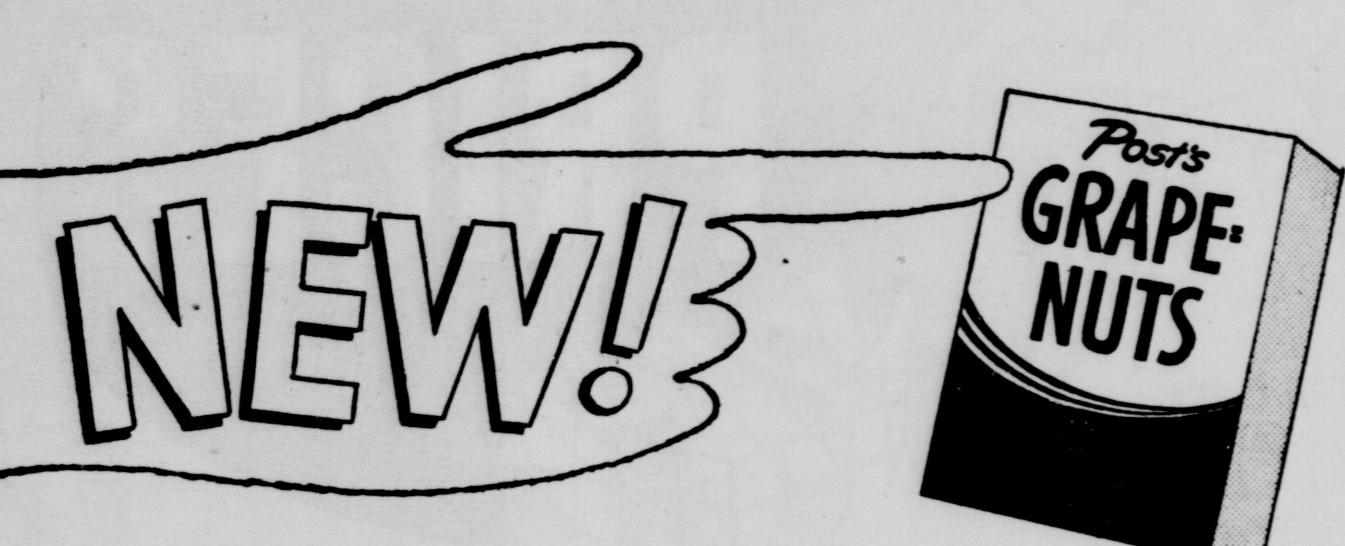

"The food grows on trees. They have inner spring mattresses that are growing on bushes. There is no rain except just as the sun comes up in the morning.

"There is no work to be done. Everything that man desires is right there at his hand. The springs that come out of the little hills, which they call mountains, have a flavor with an intoxicating effect."

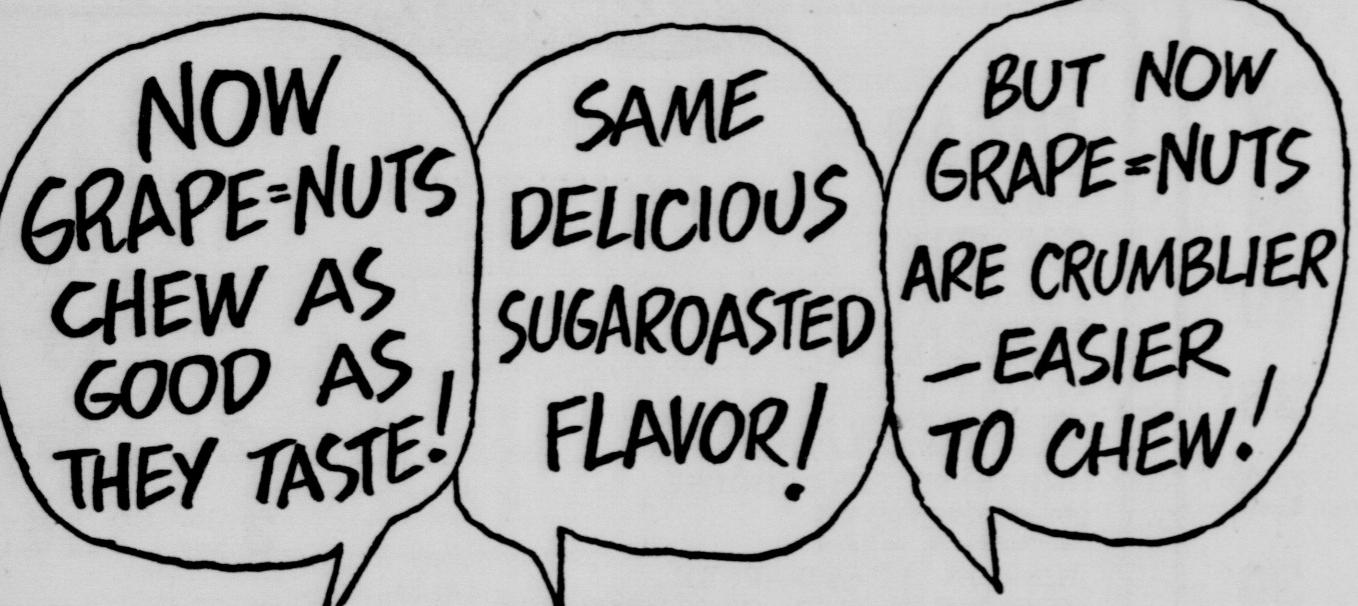

Well, at first I felt tempted to go. But I decided it would put too great a strain on my honesty.

If I got to Mars and found food growing on the trees and joy juice bubbling out of the rocks, I wouldn't want to come back and advertise the place. That'd empty California overnight, depopulate Texas — and crowd Mars.

No, if Mars was like that I'd

Coat, Dress Duet in Color Harmony

By Epsie Kinard
NEA Fashion Editor

For that steady companionship between a dress and a coat, colors that link the two together by means of contrasting fabric touches make outstanding ensembles. Take the sheer worsted dress of buckskin brown, for example, which is linked to a wool coat of republie blue by narrow bandings of matching blue which edge the neckline, yoke-line and sleeves of the dress.

Another coat and dress is identified as an ensemble by the wool tweed.

bright bond of Custer red woolen.

Blazing across the bodice of a dress of black wool jersey, yoked with white, is a stripe of Custer red, which is a color repeated in a short swagger coat of heavy type or print the facts on plain paper. Sign with any number with six digits in it. Once in the lower left corner and once in the lower right corner. Tear off one of the corners and hide it. Mail the letter to P. O. Box 3444, Chicago.

The Sun-Times keeps the original letters. Those deemed worthy of investigation are copied, and the copies are turned over to the police.

If the information results in conviction, the informant's number will be published. Then the informant can send a representative — his clergyman or lawyer, and would tell if secrecy was assured. Somebody saw the killer at or near the scene, overheard a snatch of conversation, found a clue, caught a glimpse of a license plate. Those who knew were directed to do this:

It is the secret witness plan.

It gives men or women who know something about a crime a chance to turn in their information and collect a reward without revealing their names.

The idea has spread rapidly in the last three months. It has been put to work against killers

in Chicago and Los Angeles, against murderers and ballot burglars in Kansas City, against gunmen in Detroit, against hooded mobsters in Birmingham, Ala.

Sponsors—newspapers in some places, groups of citizens in others—have offered a total of $438,-

000 in rewards. None of the money has been passed out yet.

An informant can't collect until the case ends in conviction.

The chief result, so far, has been information. Hundreds of letters have been received. Many of them offered information that looked helpful. In Chicago, for instance, 226 letters came in during the first two months. Forty-one contained what seemed to be good leads. Two of the Chicago cases have resulted in arrests.

Community Service

The Chicago Sun-Times conceived the secret witness plan as a community service. It was sparked by an FBI report that

Chicago had 326 murders in 1948, highest number for any city in the U. S. The starting switch was pulled last May 9.

perhaps — to the city editor with his fragment of the letter paper. If the piece of paper and numbers match, the agent will get the reward.

Two Arrests

So far, the newspaper has been able to report the arrests on two of the murders it reviewed. States attorney John S. Boyle said coded letters provided the clues in both of them. The victims, Herman Engelhard and John Onesto, were elderly men who were killed by robbers last year. Five men and a woman are being held for trial on murder charges in the two cases.

Other secret witness programs vary but all are built on the same general framework.

The Los Angeles Mirror put the plan in operation May 13. It was aimed at clearing up 20 murders. And $5,000 was offered for clues that would lead to a solution in each case. Hundreds of letters were received. The mail also brought some interesting by products — tips on other crimes.

An anonymous committee of citizens adopted the secret witness system in Kansas City in June to funnel information to a county grand jury. Rewards totaling $25,000 were posted in cash with the Kansas City Star.

How Money is Earmarked

The money has been earmarked this way: $10,000 in the slaying of Wolf C. Riman, golf club manager. $10,000 in the theft of ballots from the courthouse vault two years ago — a theft that has stymied prosecution of vote fraud charges.

$5,000 in the torture death of John A. Hoover, contractor and mining promoter.

Tips go directly to the grand jury through a postoffice box. The jurors apparently have received some promising material. They asked, through the Star, for more information from three writers known only by their numbers.

Biggest sum is the $200,000 offered by the CIO Auto Workers June 11 in Detroit. The purpose is to bring in clues in the shotgun attacks on Walter P. Reuther, president of the union, April 20, 1948, and his brother, Victor, last May 24. Walter's right arm was shattered. Victor lost his right eye.

To Prevent Fear

witness device to free any informers of fear of reprisal. Earlier reward offers had brought in no fruitful information.

The Veterans Committee against Crime and Violence — made up of representatives of ex-GI organizations — set up the plan late in June in Birmingham. Citizens chipped in more than $3,000 in reward money.

Prime aim was to get evidence in flogging cases. Many letters came to the committee and the three cooperating newspapers. Information was passed along to a grand jury. There was no indication of the part played by the code letters but the jury returned 44 indictments early in July.

The secret witness system continues to function. And the vet committee chairman, Carle Wells, served this notice:

"The fight against masked mob violence has just begun."

Doll Population of USA Exceeds That of People

gor for portrait dolls, made in the image of Queen Victoria, Empress Eugenie, Mary Todd Lincoln, the Swedish Nightingale, Jenny Lind, etc. Then there are story book and comic character dolls — Alice in Wonderland, Aunt Jemima, Uncle Remus and such. Add to those dolls dressed in native costumes of different countries and "name dolls," bearing the name of a certain manufacturer or designer.

You might want to collect Penny Woodens, hand carved in wood by German and Tyrolean toymakers in the 18th century and later produced for a penny in New England. Or perhaps you would prefer the elegant French Bisque dolls and the elaborate worldly wardrobes that sometimes accompany them. Or one of dozens of other categories of dolls made of rag, rubber, china, cornhusks, metal, etc.

Antique stores, second hand shops and attics are all likely hunting grounds for old dolls.

NEW YORK — You may be too old to play with dolls, but you are not too old to collect them. It is a hobby that provides fun, fantasy color and a wide field to work in. Experts in the subject estimate there are well over 225 million dolls in America. And there are dozens of different kinds.

Most collectors concentrate on one or two types. Some collect "Benefit dolls" designed to raise money for certain charitable causes such as the Civil War dolls

Chiefs to Play Knob Noster Friday Night

Former Athletics on Opposing Team Will Play in Tournament

The Sedalia Chiefs play at Liberty park Friday night instead of tonight and will meet Knob Noster, which boasts an extra strong team, built for the Holden tournament, to be played soon.

Change in Playing Dates

The Chiefs, due to the opening of business houses downtown on Thursday night have changed part of their schedule to Friday night. This change is being made to cooperate with the business establishments which are helping to sponsor the team financially.

Manager "Dutch" Hawley has announced he will use either Gene May or Bobby Brown on the mound.

Five Junior Legion players of the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, have signed contracts with the Chiefs of Ban Johnson baseball. They are Bobby Brown and Bob Ray, pitchers; Dale Ruffin and Bill Holst, outfielders and Ralph Walker, an infielder. Due to the rookie rule of the Central Missouri B. J. league, it was impossible to sign more of the Legion players, but they will be eligible next spring.

To Columbia Sunday

Sunday night the Chiefs journey to Columbia for a league game. Wednesday night, August 10 the Chillicothe ball club comes to Sedalia for a league contest. Katz of Kansas City will meet the Chiefs on Friday night, August 12.

Last Tuesday night the Chiefs lost a heart breaker to Glasgow town team by a 2-4 score. A seventh inning triple by Frevert contributed to the Sedalia loss. "Big Jim" Egbert pitched the Glasgow game and held the team to five hits.

Near No-Hitter For Hal White

By the Associated Press

Hal White, Toledo righthander and former Detroit Tiger pitcher, came within a whisker of a no-

hit game last night as he held Minneapolis to one hit and retired the last 20 men in order to grab a 4 to 1 decision for the last-place Mud Hens.

Jack Maguire, first Miller batter, lashed a hit past first to open play and went to third when Bob Mavis let a double play chance by Bob Hofman go into center field. Bama Rowell bounded a high one off the plate for the first out, and Maguire scored the Miller's only run.

Not another Minneapolis batsman reached base except Maguire, who got on again in the third on an error.

In the second game of the double header, Vernon Kennedy held Toledo to five hits as Minneapolis breezed to a 11 to 0 triumph.

St. Paul evened its series with league-leading Indianapolis by scoring a 5 to 3 decision over the Tribe.

Kurt Krieger outpitched Frank Hiller at Columbus shut out Kansas City 1 to 0. The Red Birds bunched two of their four hits in the fifth inning for the one score.

A ninth inning single by second baseman Charlie Harrington, his fourth hit of the game, gave Louisville a 6 to 5 victory over Milwaukee.

Howard Pollet Very Sharp Against Braves

Victory No. 14 For Lefthanded Ace of Dyer Pitching Staff

By the Associated Press

Howard Pollet was very sharp last night and so the St. Louis Cardinals had no trouble at all in disposing of the Boston Braves 7 to 0.

His Work Cut Out

Pollet had his work cut out for him, since Brooklyn had beaten Pittsburgh in the afternoon and he blazed right into it and gave up only four hits, keeping the Redbirds that slender half game in front of the stubborn Dodgers.

It was victory No. 14 for the lefthanded ace of Eddie Dyer's pitching staff. It was his fourth shutout and his fifth straight success.

This afternoon it's up to Al Brazile to see if he can do as well against Johnny Sain in the series finale. Brooklyn also winds up a four-game series in a day game at Pittsburgh.

Pollet struck out six and walked only one last night in one of his best games of the year.

Start Scoring Early

His mates opened the scoring in the first, when Chuck Diering singled, moved to third on a ground out and was doubled home by Nippy Jones.

In the fourth inning the Redbirds unloaded on Johnny Antonelli, 19-year-old lefthander and knocked him out. Five unearned runs came in, the result of two errors, a walk, three singles and a long fly.

The Cards now have won 11 and tied two of the last 15 games.

In Boston yesterday afternoon the Browns also ran into some sharp pitching by Ellis Kinder and the Red Sox took a 9 to 3 decision. Kinder struck out 14, just four short of the American league record. Joe Ostrowski held the Bostons at bay until the sixth, when they kayoed him.

On Tuesday night the Knights were defeated by Windsor at Windsor in a very close and hard fought game by a score of 3 to 1.

The Knights scored 1 run in the first inning on a walk to C. Weller, a sacrifice, force out and a fly by Bergman. Windsor scored 2 in the second and 1 in the third primarily by walks and errors.

Schermeyer was on the mound for the Knights and pitched a very fine game allowing only 3 hits and walking 5, but was matched by the fine hurling of Zollicker of Windsor who allowed only 2 hits and walked 2.

Blues to Play a K.C. Lumber Team

The Cash Bargain Lumber Co. of Kansas City is coming to Sedalia Sunday to meet the Sedalia Blues at House park. The game is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The lumbermen are coming to Sedalia with a seasonal record of sixteen victories against four losses. Manager Joe Haas of the visitors boasts of one of the fastest and strongest playing clubs of Kansas City.

Among the games they have won are: TWA 1 to 0, Sheffield Steel 3 to 2, Smithville twice, first game a fourteen inning affair 4 to 3 and the second a 12-inning game 3 to 2. The record of the Blues likewise is outstanding and local fans are promised a well played contest.

Missourians in Jaycee Tourney

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 4—(P)—Match play began today in the National Junior Golf tournament with a championship California team threatening to dominate.

Defending champion Gene Littler, San Diego, yesterday paced the Californians to the team title by posting a five under par 36-hole 137 for medalist honors of the fourth annual meet.

Four of the five low medalist scores were turned in by Californians with Dean Lind, Rockford, Ill., last year's USCA Junior champion, preventing a complete monopoly.

The Californians breezed to an easy title with 566 points to 606 for the Illinois and Texas teams which tied for second place.

It took a score of 165 to qualify for match play which is to continue on a double round basis through Saturday. The 36-hole finals are set for Sunday.

Among today's matches was:

Jim Clark, Leabanon, Mo., (158) vs. Bud Holscher, Santa Monica, Calif. (145).

Jim Blair, Jr., of Jefferson City, Mo., qualified with a score of 147, good for a four-way tie for seventh position in the scoring.

Bills To Curb The Percenterers

Introduced By
Senators Mundt
And Ferguson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(P)—Bills to curb "five percenterers" were introduced by two senators Wednesday while a House committee invited secretary of the army Gordon Gray to testify Friday in a widening investigation.

The committee wants any information Gray may have as to five percenters' activities in connection with the military uniform fees.

Five percenters are persons alleged to be collecting fees for acting as middle-men between government and businessmen seeking government orders. The practice is not illegal, though it is officially frowned upon.

Senators Ferguson (R-Mich) and Mundt (R-SD) offered separate bills to discourage the practice.

Ferguson's bill would require holders of government contracts to state in the contracts whether they paid a commission for help in getting the order, the amount paid and who received the money.

Mundt's measure would force five percenters to register under the lobbyists act. They would list names of their clients and their fees.

Both bills would set up contract information offices in Washington and over the country. The intent is to make it unnecessary for small business firms to employ Washington agents.

Meanwhile Rep. Hebert (D-La), heading a House armed services sub-committee, linked the name of James V. Hunt, management counselor who has denied selling "influence," with Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, Jr., suspended Army quartermaster-general.

Hebert said he had been told by Stanley J. Cummings, executive secretary of the National Association of Uniform Manufacturers, Inc., that Hunt had offered to try to get Gen. Feldman to rescind a pending Army order. The order involved plans for the Army manufacture of officers' uniforms.

Cummings was quoted as saying that Hunt asked a $25,000 fee. His proposition was rejected by the Uniform Manufacturers Association as being too costly.

Cummings had been expected to appear for testimony today before the House sub-committee, but Hebert explained that he was on vacation.

Approve $175,000 Fund To Fight Grasshoppers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(P)—The Senate quickly stamped approval Wednesday on a $1,750,000 fund to fight grasshopper scourge in the west and midwest.

The vote completed Congress' action on the measure and sent it to the White House for President Truman's signature. The House, earlier, approved the compromise version.

Discuss Contest On Snapshots

The Sedalia Camera club met Tuesday evening at the home of its president, Robt. J. Zoernig, of 236 South Prospect avenue.

The current county-wide snapshot contest which the club is sponsoring was discussed, and members were asked to secure entries if possible. The contest closes August 15, and to date not many entries have been received. It was again emphasized that members of the club and their families were not eligible to enter, which will give amateur photographers of Pettis county a greater chance for the awards of photographic equipment.

A print display from the Marshall Camera club was shown, and the members listed their criticisms of the prints to be returned with the pictures. Sedalia recently sent a print display to Marshall for the same purpose.

The next meeting will be held August 16 at the home of Glen McVey, 1111 West Seventh street. Gordon Heerman will deliver a lecture on photographic filters at that meeting.

Charge Made Of Taking Kick-Back

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 4—(P)—A charge of obtaining money under false pretenses was filed on Wednesday against one of the plaintiffs seeking an accounting from officers of a labor union, headed by Rep. Theodore Leonard Irving.

The defendant in the felony charge is Theodore Baldwin, former custodian at the headquarters of the Construction and General Laborers Union, local No. 264. He is charged with taking an alleged kick-back of $375 out of a total of $1,307 paid in death benefits to Mrs. Essie Brown.

Baldwin was one of 75 members of the union who three weeks ago filed a suit against the Congressman and two other officers seeking an accounting and restoration of union funds allegedly misappropriated Irving, a Democrat, is representative from President Truman's home district.

Mrs. Brown alleged in her complaint that Baldwin told her that unless she kicked back the money, she would fail to receive the proceeds of additional checks. Baldwin pleaded innocent in Magistrate court and his preliminary hearing was set for September 7.

Harmony On Defense Under Pact

American Joint Chiefs of Staff Agree With Britain, Norway, Denmark

By William N. Oatis

LONDON, Aug. 4—(AP)—American joint chiefs of staff have reached a complete understanding with Britain, Norway and Denmark on organization for mutual defense under the Atlantic Pact, Adm. Louis E. Denfeld announced today.

"We are going home, I am sure, with a very much better understanding of the situation than we had when we came over," the U. S. chief of naval operations told a news conference following meetings with Norwegian and Danish military commanders.

Adm. Denfeld spoke for the joint chiefs.

The subject of sharing the atom bomb with other Atlantic treaty signatories was not mentioned in the staff talks, Denfeld told a questioner.

No General Discussion

"There was no general discussion of arms aid," he added. "Our purpose in coming here was to exchange ideas on proper organization."

Gen. O. E. Berg, chief of the Norwegian joint services, told the reporters:

"We have discussed definite defense programs and we are finding a very good solution to our problem."

Denfeld told the reporters a defense organization might be functioning by the end of this year. He added this was just a guess, based on a feeling that "we were getting along so well it would not be too tough to work out an organization by that time."

The naval chief said the U. S. commanders did not come here with any ready made plan. Rather, he said, the mission was to exchange views and report back to the U. S. government.

Bradley Silent

U. S. Army Gen. Omar Bradley, emerging with Denfeld from the heavily guarded conference room, declined to discuss what form the Atlantic Pact defense plan would take, who might be its commander or where its headquarters might be.

In France, where the staff chiefs will be at week's end, conferences will be held at Fontainebleau with British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery and with commanders from France, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands—the other members of the western European union.

Sedalians as MU Graduates

Four Pettis county boys received degrees from the University of Missouri at Columbia Wednesday night at the commencement exercises closing the summer session. They are:

Hunt, 916 South Harrison avenue, who received a Bachelor of Journalism degree and has accepted a position as news editor of the Morehouse Sentinel and Bastrop Clarion, Bastrop, La., a semi-weekly paper. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt and son will come to Sedalia for a visit before going to Bastrop.

Lyle Ross Trueblood, who received his A. M. degree. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva R. Trueblood, 222 East Sixth street.

Mail Carrier Addresses Kiwanis Club

Tells of Postal Service, Rural Free Delivery

"The Postal Service and Rural Free Delivery" was the subject of a talk by Paul G. Benson, Sedalia, rural mail carrier and National Committeeman of the Rural Letter Carriers' Association, before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club in Bothwell Thursday noon.

The speaker told of the origin and development of the vast and intricate system that serves the American public daily, and explained the administrative set-up in Washington.

The text of Mr. Benson's talk is of sufficient public interest that it will be reproduced in the Democrat and Capital in a subsequent issue.

The Rev. H. U. Campbell was acting program chairman.

New Club Member

Dr. John E. Lamy became a new member of the club. He was inducted by Rev. Mr. Campbell, assisted by W. M. Johns, whose granddaughter is the wife of Dr. Lamy. Following this ceremony the club in song recognized the birthday anniversary of Mr. Johns, a charter club member, who is now 83 years old.

Club guests were O. W. Brunkhorst, Denison, Texas, with his brother Harry Brunkhorst, and former club member Joe Rosenthal, Kansas City.

Downtown Stores Open Tonight

Tonight most of the Sedalia merchants are giving the citizens of Sedalia and the surrounding communities the opportunity to shop on a mid-week night and many people are expected to be in the downtown district to take advantage of this new privilege.

The new mid-week shopping night is being tried by most of merchants during the months of August and September and if it proves successful may become a regular custom. Stores will be open tonight and every Thursday night for these two months until 9:00 o'clock.

President Did Not Receive Any Matches From J. V. Hunt

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(P)—Pres. Truman said today he is not acquainted with James V. Hunt, a former army officer who has been mentioned in a Senate committee's inquiry into operations of "five percenters."

Mr. Truman made the statement at his news conference when he was told that a case of 2,500 books of matches inscribed "Swiped these from Harry S. Truman" was purchased last December by Hunt from the Universal Match company of St. Louis.

The president said anybody could purchase those matches. He added, in answer to questions, that matches he frequently passes to White House guests were not given him by Hunt.

He said the reporters' information that Hunt had made the

United States Will Publish A White Paper

On Its Relations With China to Explain Situation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(P)—President Truman said today the United States will publish a white paper on its relations with China to clear up "misrepresentation, distortion, and misunderstanding."

In a formal statement, the president said the friendship between the United States people and the people of China "is as strong today as it has ever been."

He said the problem is to find ways "to give practical expression to that friendship" and that this is receiving "the closest attention of this government."

The statement was given out at his weekly news conference.

A reporter recalled that there has been criticism that the United States government has been "too slow" in its aid to the Chinese Nationalist government because of reported Communist influences within the State Department.

Erroneous Criticism

Mr. Truman said that this entire erroneous criticism would be covered in the volume the State Department is publishing tomorrow.

He said in his statement that some of the "misrepresentation, arose because this government distortion and misunderstanding" was reluctant to reveal certain facts, the publication of which might have served to hasten the events in China which have now occurred."

The president said, under questioning, that the white paper on China would include the Wedemeyer report as well as reports made by former Secretary of State Marshall when he went to China as a special ambassador for the president.

The Wedemeyer report, so-called because it was prepared by Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, has been under administration study for some time but has not been made public.

Mutual Interest

In his statement, the president said that the mutual interests of the United States and China "require full and frank discussion of the facts."

"It is only in this way that the people of our country and their representatives in Congress can have the understanding necessary to the sound evolution of our foreign policy in the Far East," he said.

He added that the report covers our relations with China dating back to the 1840's. It not only includes the Wedemeyer and Marshall reports, but also the reports of Lt. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, former ambassador to China.

He would not say whether any new steps were proposed in the document. He held up a heavy volume which he said was being made available to newspapers this afternoon for publication tomorrow.

He said that if the reporters read it and understand it, they would know as much about Chinese policy as he did and he thought he knew more about it than anybody else right now.

Business Will Hold For Time

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(P)—Signs built up today of a breathing spell—but probably not a permanent halt—in business downtown that has run through 1949 so far.

A consensus produced by a top-flight official group of economists working as a team boiled down with some "ifs" attached to this:

1. The immediate outlook is that economic activity will hold at the mid-year level for the July-August-September quarter, and perhaps may rise a bit in September.

2. Longer-range prospects are darker, because it seems that, on the whole, fundamental readjustment has not been completed and employment, production, income and prices may continue to drift downwards from October through mid-1950.

The men who drew up this appraisal would not be quoted by name.

Bond Issue Defeated

GALT, Mo., Aug. 4—(P)—Citizens here yesterday defeated by one and one-third votes—a proposed $2,000 bond issue to buy firefighting equipment.

The vote was 44 in favor and 24 against. A two-thirds majority was required.

Car Kills Child

MAYVIEW, Mo., Aug. 4—(P)—The family car, parked in the driveway, rolled down an incline and killed Carol Eunice Watson, 21 months old, at her home near here yesterday.

She was the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Watson. The father is superintendent of Mayview schools and pastor of the Baptist church here.

Senators investigators, meanwhile indicated the first phase of the public inquiry into the activities of "five percenters" will deal with army buying.

Garlic-Like Odor Pervaded Much Of Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4—(P)—A foul, garlic-like odor pervaded much of Los Angeles early today.

The odor—which extended from downtown Los Angeles to Pasadena—caused hundreds of people to call newspapers and the police.

There were no hospitalizations reported although many of the callers reported they had difficulty breathing because of the foul air.

The Southern California Gas Co. sent out emergency crews to find leaks in mains but found none. A gas company spokesman said the odor was similar to that in oil refinery areas and that fog prevented the fumes from being dispersed.

Yesterday water in an outdoor swimming pool turned orange and started bubbling, its noxious fumes overcoming more than 100 bathers. Twenty-four were hospitalized.

Amund Gautier, pool manager, blamed chlorine gas. He said a pipe, carrying the gas into the pool, must have become clogged temporarily and then let out the gas faster than the water could absorb it.

To Jail Rather Than Reveal Hiding Place Charged With Taking Little Daughter From Foster Parents

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 4—(P)—A judge offered Mrs. Nellie Beshears her freedom today if she would tell where she has hidden her 7-year-old daughter she is accused of stealing.

Hunt, a former lieutenant colonel in the army quartermaster corps, is now a management counselor in Washington. Reports dealing with his activities touched off a congressional inquiry into allegations of the use of influence in the awarding of government contracts. The practice is not illegal.

The Star said Hunt was asked whether he ever had sought the help of President Truman's military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, in getting favors for anyone.

That was his comment when he was questioned about a rise in business loans reported by the federal reserve board yesterday.

Asked for an observation on business conditions as of now, he said all he knows is what he reads in the papers.

And he added even the Wall Street Journal says there is an improvement.

The situation shaped up like this after the first full week of committee consideration of the program sent to Congress last week by Mr. Truman:

1. There is heavy sentiment to curb the broad grants of presidential authority proposed and spell out, as closely as possible, the amount of assistance to be given, the nations to receive it and the conditions under which it shall be provided.

2. There is substantial sentiment for a sharp cut in the amount and duration of the program.

Instead of approving an arms plan to run through June 30, 1950, many committee members favor limiting it to next March 31, with the idea that Congress can take another look in January and extend it if necessary. Those supporting this proposal would cut the financial authorization at least in half.

House leaders have not set a timetable for full House debate. They hope to have the bill on the House floor around the middle of the month.

Experts Recalled

The expert witnesses who testified yesterday were recalled today.

They are Major General Lynn L. Lemitzer, Edward T. Dickinson, Jr., and Dr. Lloyd Berkner, members of the government's foreign assistance correlation committee.

A formal committee announcement at the end of the session said they gave "detailed information about the specific types of equipment" proposed to be given to friendly nations fearful of Soviet encroachment.

The announcement said nothing about the amounts each nation would get. Committee members said privately France and Great Britain would be cut in for the lion's share because of their importance militarily.

Mrs. Truman Has Been on Diet

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(P)—Mrs. Harry S. Truman has been on a diet—and has lost around 20 pounds.

This was disclosed yesterday at a party for Mrs. George Mesta, American minister to Luxembourg, and Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark, treasurer of the U. S. Both were recently appointed by President Truman.

When the slim Mrs. Truman came into the room, she immediately was asked if she had been on a diet.

"Yes," she said

"Any particular diet?"

"I've been eating what my husband eats."

"Is the president on a diet?"

"No," said Mrs. Truman.

She then disclosed her secret.

She has lost weight by eliminating salt from her diet

Key Figure in Inquiry Quoted By Newspaper As Saying he Saved Client Money by Selling to Army

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(P)—James V. Hunt, key figure in the "five percenter" inquiry, was quoted today as saying he once saved a client $400,000 by getting the army to purchase a supply of DDT bombs.

Hunt, a former colonel in the army quartermaster corps, is now a management counselor in Washington. Reports dealing with his activities touched off a congressional inquiry into allegations of the use of influence in the awarding of government contracts. The practice is not illegal.

In a copyrighted story, the Washington Evening Star said Hunt found the army was in the market for DDT bombs, and that the transaction was negotiated after he had conferred with Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, army quartermaster general who recently was suspended in connection with the five percenter investigation.

Wedding To Be Public

Want-Ad Finds Girl Willing To Wed Ex-Soldier

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug 4—(P)—Charles Donaldson advertised for a wife Tuesday and got a huge public response, so now he's planning a public wedding.

From among the hundreds of applicants who answered the want-ad, he chose Miss Irene Krebbs, 18, Wednesday.

"I've signed a contract with a manager to stage the wedding Saturday night," Donaldson said tonight. "I don't know where it will be. We can't get the ball park or municipal auditorium. My manager will take care of the arrangements."

The 22-year-old former soldier in the Fifth Air Force said his partner in a general contracting service, Orville Montmore, also had signed the contract to make it a double wedding.

Donaldson came home from the service to find most of his old girl friends had moved away or had married. Montmore was getting married Saturday night and wanted to make it a double ceremony but Donaldson lacked a bride.

"Wanted girl, under 21, to get married by Saturday," read the ad. Charles was swamped with calls.

"The response was terrific," he said.

Swamped Dial System

He added that he didn't get a chance to keep track of the number which swamped the dial system. Some callers admitted they were over 21. Some said they were 15.

To prove it wasn't a gag Charles agreed to meet one of the callers at a drug store last night. She was Miss Krebbs, with black hair and blue eyes.

He walked in and out of the place four times, before Miss Krebbs revealed her identity. He said she later told him that "She hoped I was the fellow after she saw me the first time."

At first Charles declined to disclose the girl's name because he was afraid her parents might object.

But later Wednesday Charles said Miss Krebbs had been given their consent.

"I haven't met her folks or told my folks about it yet," he said.

When asked where they planned to live after the wedding, Donaldson replied:

"We'll let that take care of itself when the time comes."

Girl Against The Channel:

Eating is Mighty Big Problem To Distance Swimmer Shirley

DURING DISTANCE SWIMS, Shirley can't touch the boat while she eats. Here she shows how she comes up to grab her liquid formula snack from her coach, Harry Boudakian.

By SHIRLEY MAY FRANCE
As told to Richard Kleiner

Eating is a mighty important problem for a distance swimmer. I dearly love French fried potatoes, but I won't be able to order them until I've finished my attempt to swim the English Channel.

All fried foods are out of my training diet. Likewise ice cubes, soda pop and candy. I envy kids who can have them, but I've got a job to do. I drink only milk.

Everything I eat must be broiled or boiled. Nothing can be greasy. Nothing can be heavily seasoned.

Almost every dinner I tuck away a pound and a half of steak because the nourishment I need most is protein. My baggage includes 60 pounds of steaks and chops and six dozen hard-boiled eggs, put on the boat in New York, because we weren't sure what we could get in England. And anyway we didn't want to take any more food than necessary out of the English fare.

Eating while swimming is a bigger problem. After four hours, you get pretty hungry and as the hours go by, you get hungrier still.

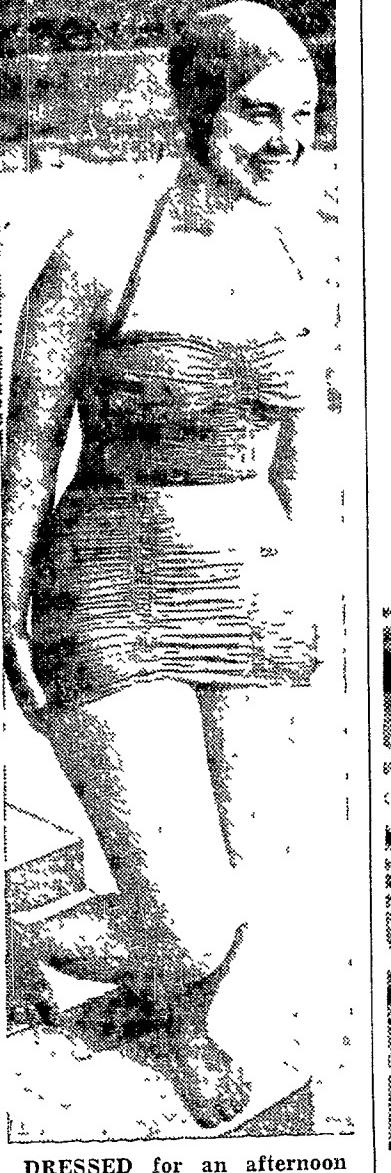

The rules of most distance swimming associations forbid the swimmer from touching the boat while eating, so you have to grab your food from your coach's hand.

About every four hours in the water, I stop to eat. I generally switch to a side stroke for that. My food is a bottle of a special liquid formula, devised by a chemist. The main ingredient is glucose, and the stuff looks and tastes something like malted milk. It's good, and it's filling.

Once in a while, too, I'll be given a chocolate bar. That's good for energy, but I can't have the kind with almonds in them.

When you think of a distance swim, like the English Channel, it's misleading when someone tells you the distance is 19 miles, which is the accepted Channel distance. Actually, you never swim in a straight line. In the first place you cannot naturally swim straight, any more than you can walk straight over a long period of time. In the second place, there are tides to be considered, and you have to more or less zigzag to take advantage of them.

Actually, therefore, you usually have to add three or four miles on to the distance. Before I get through with the Channel, I'll probably have covered about 22

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Gen. Vaughan, John Maragon And Lobbyist Hunt Helped

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 — In the spring of 1946 when building materials were scarcer than hens' teeth and several million veterans were pounding the pavements looking for homes, this columnist published a series exposing the mysterious manner in which the Tanforan race track at San Bruno, Calif., was able to flout the U. S. government and spend $2,000,000 on new grandstands, stables, etc.

Indicating they had "friends in Washington," Tanforan officials thumbed their nose at court orders and went blithely ahead with their building.

No one at that time knew the reason why. Now, three years later, the backstage story becomes clearer. The Tanforan race track did have friends — including the president's military aide, Gen. Harry Vaughan, together with his mysterious Greek sidekick, John Maragon, and the now famous lobbyist, ex-Col. James V. Hunt.

Just when they started helping the Tanforan track is still not clear. Nevertheless, General Vaughan has been serving as coordinator for veterans affairs, and, as such, his job is to protect veterans. Information before the Senate investigating committee, however, shows that he used his influence to help a race track get building materials supposed to have been reserved for veterans.

For, when his friends, John Maragon, could not get government building restrictions raised to help the Tanforan track, Vaughan sent his other friend, James Hunt, to the housing expeditor. As a result, the office of housing expeditor, also supposed to protect veterans, sent a memo to the justice department instructing them to lift the injunction which a federal judge in California had placed against Tanforan's unauthorized use of building materials.

Big Bootlegger Turns to Racing

The Tanforan track was owned by Joseph H. Reinfeld, one of the biggest bootleggers ever to operate rum boats off the New Jersey coast during prohibition days, and once indicted for the murder of Louis LaFera, a prohibition agent who had seized his rum boat "Herreshoff" with $75,000 worth of whiskey aboard.

Came the end of prohibition and Reinfeld became the exclusive distributor of Haig and Haig, King William scotches, Martini and Rossi vermouth; plus regional distributor for Seagram and Schenleys. He also became the owner, with two others, of the Tanforan race track. All three, however, remained in the background.

On June 2 and June 22, 1946, this columnist first called attention to the Tanforan violation of housing regulations. A review of these columns shows that as early as May, 1946, the Tanforan crowd seemed to have mysterious influence in Washington, which ruled that they were merely demolishing former navy construction.

U. S. authorities in California, however, ruled otherwise. And on May 31, Gilbert Kneiss, district civilian production administration representative, refused Tanforan a permit for new construction, despite which a CPA inspector on June 5 found Tanforan continuing new construction.

In fact, Tanforan, for reasons best known to itself, continued to ignore both building regulations and U. S. federal officials in California. Between June, 1946, and Feb. 14, 1947, there were 18 violations of CPA regulations. In that period, the track put up luxurious new construction despite orders to the contrary.

Finally this was too much for U. S. judge George B. Harris in San Francisco and, on Feb. 14, 1947, he issued an injunction banning further construction. Even this, however, was ignored. The Tanforan boys seemed to think they had protective friends in Washington.

Judge Takes Initiative

Significant excerpts from the Washington Merry-Go-Round published at that time read: "The Tanforan boys continued to fix up their race track at a total cost of around $2,000,000. . . . Their flouting of the government appeared so willful that rumor got around they had an 'in' with somebody very high up. . . . The contempt citation was initiated by Judge Harris himself. CPA officials apparently were standing on the sidelines doing nothing about Tanforan's continued violations of buildings materials, so the alert judge decided to move. . . . CPA officials, when asked why they hadn't recommended prosecution, said: 'All our reports have gone to Washington. We have referred everything to Washington for their decision.' . . . In Washington CPA counsel Harold Price admitted that the Tanforan report was on his desk but he had not had time to study it."

While Washington marked time, however, U. S. judge Dal Lemmon in California proceeded with the prosecution. Result: Guy Standifer, front man for Joe Reinfeld, plus Tanforan contractors got three months in jail and fines of $80,000. Joe Reinfeld and the other two real owners, never appeared in the picture and were never prosecuted. In fact, their ownership was not known.

Enter General Vaughan

Just when the Maragon-Vaughan-Hunt team stepped into the Tanforan picture also is not known. According to information so far unearthed by Senate investigators their activity may not have started until after Tanforan found itself faced with criminal prosecution. At any rate the triumvirate was remarkably successful.

For, in October and November, 1947, a new inside lobbying drive was started in Washington to help Tanforan. This time, it was stated, Tanforan had changed owners. William Helis, Greek-American oil operator in Louisiana and race-track owner in New Jersey, evinced an interest in the track and considered buying it. In the end, it was purchased by Eugene Mori of the Garden State Racing Association. But Helis happens to be a close friend of Gen. Harry Vaughan, and has used his fellow Greek, John Maragon, to run errands in Washington. Vaughan and Maragon, after visiting Helis' Rancocas Farms in New Jersey, brought back a pig which they turned loose in J. Edgar Hoover's office as a joke on the unsuspecting FBI director.

It was after Vaughan, Maragon and Hunt came into the picture that all of Tanforan's troubles suddenly vanished. Maragon and Hunt made some calls at the office of housing administrator and shortly thereafter the justice department was asked to lift its order banning Tanforan from the use of building materials.

More about the mysterious team of Maragon, Vaughan and Hunt and what they accomplished inside the government will follow tomorrow.

Usually, we wait until the ships come to their home port before we tie them up. We may leave them up in foreign ports in the next strike. —Hugh Bryson, president, CIO Marine Cooks and Stewards Union.

There was no better soldier than he (Ernie Pyle). He sweated and suffered with infantrymen and more than anyone else helped America understand the heroism and sacrifices of its fighting men. He was a little guy who loved the little guy and he brought the front to the front door of every American home. — Bert Buchwach, president, Honolulu Press club, at Pyle's reburial in Honolulu.

Regrettably, I'm forced to believe that the best we can hope to do is to bring a new labor law before the House as the first business in the session that opens next January. — Rep. Augustine E. Kelley, (D-Pa), giving up hope of repealing the Taft-Hartley law.

The Republican party is bigger and its policies more important than any group or individual. Personal pride and ambition must be put aside if we are to have harmony in our ranks.—Hugh D. Scott, Jr., announcing his resignation as Republican national chairman.

Every church has its own right to its own history. But one thing is necessary — that we find ourselves all tied together in our Christian faith. That is the future of Protestantism in the world. — Dr. Albert Schweitzer, famed scholar and theologian.

This is the time to go ahead with those socially important enterprises such as housing. It is not the time to withdraw funds from the consuming public by increased taxes.—Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin.

Arguments on Arms Program More Complicated

by James Marlow

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(P)—The arguments about President Truman's arms program will get more complicated as time goes on.

Some of our top government think the program may have to last three to five years before we'll really be finished arming Europe.

But another point of dispute, and it's an important one, revolves a part of the arms bill called section three. It says in effect:

The president can help any nation he wants to do it, in any way he chooses, so long as he thinks it's to the benefit of the United States in the long run.

Biggest Target

This section is the biggest target of the critics right now because they say:

They're afraid that — by letting the president decide when he wants to help and how — they'll be giving him more power than any president in history. Why?

It gives him a blank check, they say, to do anything he wants to do about military tie-ups with other countries and in the end this could get us into war.

So section three may be rewritten and toned down and tightened up, cutting away some of the presidential power there,

• The Doctor Says

Old Age is Inevitable,
So Take it as it Comes

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

People grow old at different rates of speed. Some may show signs of mental aging comparatively early, while other may go into their nineties without showing any serious mental changes.

The development of senility or an aged mind is practically never sudden. An increased tendency to forget the names of people, dates, or places is a common sign of mental aging. This alone should not be taken too seriously.

Only when loss of memory has become extremely severe and is associated with other changes in mental functioning is it proper to speak of true senility. Even in this condition, however, the memory for events which happened 20 or more years before may be very good, while for events which occurred recently may be poor.

Don't Become Upset

The person who has developed serious mental deficiencies because of great age is not, as a rule, much upset about it himself. Family and friends are often sadly distressed. It seems tragic to see a person who has formerly shown great mental and physical powers lost those powers and not even know it!

Nothing can be done about it. Therefore, family and friends should take these changes calmly and not worry too much about them. If the memory is poor, there is no reason why a notebook cannot be carried and used to jot things down. Any other aids desired should be used without hesitation.

QUESTION: Does pneumonia come from a cold?

ANSWER: The germs which cause pneumonia are commonly found in normal throats. Pneumonia does frequently follow a cold, probably because the cold lowers the resistance and allows the germs already present to invade the lungs and produce the disease pneumonia.

Had To Disrobe To Get Pictures

DENVER, Aug. 4—(P)—A reporter and photographer from the Denver Post had to take off their clothing to get pictures and a story of the nudists' conference here.

Neither Dave Mathias nor his companion, reporter Elaine Little, wanted to return to the office empty-handed. So they obeyed orders to strip.

Little's account of the incident:

"They let us keep on our shoes and socks. They told us to tuck our matches and cigarettes in our socks."

"Following directions we disrobed in the men's dormitory. Minutes later we emerged, Mathias cowering behind his speed graphic camera and this reporter fluttering his note paper like a fan dancer.

"The first moment was like one of those dreams in which you lose your pants on a crowded streetcar. x x x After that it was a cinch. Nothing to it. All you miss are pockets."

Officers said Mrs. Croft had swerved to avoid another truck. Her two children, James, 3, and Don, 3-months-old, suffered minor injuries. Mrs. Croft was not injured.

Quirk of Fate Brings Father, Son Together

Separated When Father Disappeared 45 Years Ago

DETROIT Aug. 4—(P)—An ailing man's long search for the son he left 43 years ago seemed hopeless. He feared he would die before he found him.

Then, by a strange quirk of fate, a tramp on a San Francisco dock offered to sell him a worn Detroit telephone directory. He bought it for 25 cents.

Because of that, William Geddes, 67, is going to see his son again.

Detroit Attorney Harold Geddes, 44, told today how he talked by phone with his father, who is in a San Francisco hospital.

"For the first few seconds he couldn't say anything but hello," Harold said. "He was all cracked up. Then he told me some of the things that had happened."

Disappeared in 1906

The elder Geddes, a railroad engineer, disappeared mysteriously from his home in Rochester, N. Y., in 1906. He left behind his wife, now dead, remarried.

William told his son he had gone to California, found another wife and started life anew. He had a son and daughter by his second wife.

During World War II, he joined the Merchant Marine, serving throughout the war in combat areas of the Pacific.

After the war, he was stricken with a heart ailment. Gradually the thought that he might die soon aroused in him a desire to find his former family.

Wrote to Police

He started writing letters to police departments in eastern cities asking them to help. He wrote 112 letters in all, but each was a new disappointment.

Then he bought that phone directory. Listed there was a "Harold Geddes." Before the father and son made connections, the elder man suffered another heart attack and entered the hospital. He spoke with his son from there.

Excitement Too Much

They were only able to talk a few minutes. William told Harold:

"All this excitement has made me pretty tired. I guess I'd better go lie down now."

Harold said today he was waiting for his father to improve. After that he will decide whether to go west or have William come to Detroit.

Better Nursing Reduces Bad Effects of Polio

(Editor's Note: This is the first of three articles by an AP Science Editor Howard W. Blakeslee, explaining what is known about infantile paralysis, how you can take precautions against catching the disease, and what to do if it strikes your family.)

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—(P)—Chil-dren have had polio—infantile paralysis—since ancient times. Today a higher proportion recover without crippling.

This is the only gain, and all in the present century. The gain comes from better nursing, and not from anything else.

Almost everyone has had polio, but only a few become sick. How the disease works in most of us who don't get ill is entirely unknown.

But what happens in the sick is well known. It is in your spinal cord. This cord is the cable carrying nerves from the brain to branch out like switchboard wires, to all parts of your body.

Nerves Govern Muscles

One set of nerves in this cord governs muscles. Polio chooses, for some mysterious reason, to attack these particular nerves and no others. These nerves are made of horn-shaped cells.

Polio damages or destroys horn cells. Among all nerves, these horn cells alone are unable to regenerate themselves. Once gone, they break the muscle—nerve cable for life.

Without these nerves in the spine, muscles shrink. No other part of your body is damaged.

Polio can strike at any point along the spinal cable. If it hits high up, it paralyzes arms and legs. If in the mid-spine, polio hits the muscles of breathing. If low down, it paralyzes leg muscles.

There is an additional point of attack, in the "bulb," a rounded thing, half the size of the thumb, at the top of your spine. This location of polio brings most of the deaths.

Caused by a Virus

The cause of polio is a virus, a very tiny particle made of protein. How this particle does its destruction is unknown.

Two kinds of polio virus are known. More are suspected. You can have polio more than once, one attack for each kind of virus.

In epidemics, those who recover without any bad effects, range from 40 to 70 per cent. Sometimes there will be 70 per cent complete recoveries without any medical care whatever. Sometimes the death rates and crippling are high, despite care.

This contradiction is due to the virus being different from year to year, sometimes virulent and sometimes mild.

In epidemics, hardly more than one child in 300 gets visible polio.

The highest susceptibility is from ages four to nine. But polio can hit adults, and recently in the United States the adult victims have been increasing.

Two Special Aids

Nursing care, to help the body fight its own battle, is all that can be done in polio. There are two special aids. One is heat. The other, movement of stricken muscles. Both are Sister Elizabeth Kenny's contributions and have done more than anything else to reduce crippling. Others than Sister Kenny knew the merits of these two treatments, but she was the person who did most to convince doctors. Both treat the paralyzed muscles and not the horn cells. Nothing now known does any good for the stricken cells in spinal cords.

Early diagnosis—detecting the disease—is the most important single thing to be done. And the most difficult. The only scientific proof is to use spinal cord fluid to make a monkey sick. This test takes weeks and hundreds of dollars. A recent French test promises to do something similar with mice in two weeks. Both are slow to help your child.

LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 4—(P)—While Charles Chappell was out shopping Wednesday somebody smashed a plate glass window at his home. It made Chappell mad.

Chappel is a Civil War veteran, raced to the police station to sign a complaint. The Autoette is a sort of three-wheeled motor scooter steered by means of a tiller.

"We didn't tolerate malice in the Union Army and I still don't like it," he told officers.

He hopped into his Autoette and 102 years old.

Mr. Big Parade Begins in Washington on Foreign Plan

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3—(P)—It's when we get into the foreign field that the Mr. Big Parade really begins in Washington.

President Truman asks Congress to approve a foreign program he's worked out, you can sit in Topeka and call the shots.

His first team—the State Department, army, ambassadors and so on—beats it up to Congress to plug for the program.

There's nothing strange about that, Congress would want to hear their say-so, whether or not they wanted to go.

It would be strange, though, if one of the team crossed up his boss, Mr. Truman, and tore one of the programs to pieces.

You don't see that happen often. And there's a good reason for that. Most of the team probably helped him put the program together in the first place.

Daily Routine

So the members of the team march up to the capitol day after day, nod their heads "Yes," speak their pieces, get their pictures taken, and go back to work.

It's the foreign program which always seems to bring out the biggest boys in Washington.

Take the arms-for-Europe program. Mr. Truman dropped that into Congress' basket July 25 and asked for $1,450,000,000 to pay for it. This was pretty hot.

That arms program had been one of the most talked-of things in Washington for months. Everyone knew Mr. Truman was getting ready to hand it to Congress. It was just a matter of when.

Some Opposition

And it became clear before the message reached Congress at all that there'd be some opposition to it. The arguments ran like this:

Mr. Truman was asking too much money for it; or he should not have too much authority in using the money; or there should not be such a program at all.

So Mr. Truman was going to have a bit of fight on his hands to get it through.

There'd have to be hearings before the congressional committees which, after hearing a lot of witnesses, would draw up bills for the House and Senate to vote on.

Right there a little rumpus started. Arms? The Senate Armed Services committee thought it ought to handle the hearings.

But it goes right to the heart of our foreign relations. So the Senate's Foreign Relations committee thought it ought to handle the hearings.

Prepared For Hearings

The two proud committees finally solved this one by turning themselves into a combined committee for the hearings on this one program alone.

They began to get ready for the hearings. But the House Foreign Affairs committee beat the Senate's combined committee by starting hearings of its own first.

Once more the big parade moved up to the hill to put in a plug for Mr. Truman's program and one by one the following testified before the House committee or sent a statement to it:

First, Secretary of State Acheson; then Secretary of Defense Johnson; then Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff; W. Averell Harriman, roving ambassador for the Marshall plan in Europe; Lewis Douglas, ambassador to Britain; Henry F. Grady, ambassador to Greece.

General George C. Marshall, former secretary of state, was asked to testify by the committee and he did, in favor of the plan.

And yesterday Acheson and Johnson began repeating their rounds by testifying before a closed session of the Senate's combined committee.

Two Fatally Hurt And 18 Injured

LAUREL, Md., Aug. 4—(P)—A big tractor-trailer jack-knifed across the Washington-Baltimore boulevard in a rainstorm Wednesday and a crowded bus smacked into it. Then an automobile careered off the truck.

The multiple accident killed two persons and injured about 18 others.

Traffic on the road—busy U. S. route 1—was tied up for a mile in either direction midway between Washington and Baltimore.

Injured passengers were trapped in the Greyhound bus. Nine ambulances were sent to the scene. Some of the bus riders were given first aid inside the vehicle.

University hospital in Baltimore reported a man identified as Harold M. Quenzer, 4, of Baltimore, died soon after arrival there.

One of five persons taken to Leland Memorial Hospital near Washington—an unidentified woman—was pronounced dead on arrival.

It's the foreign program which always seems to bring out the biggest boys in Washington.

FUR TRIM — Scrolls of leopard on cinnamon broadcloth coat. All by Bambury.

fall and winter in coats as carefully styled and elegantly detailed as those of their mothers.

As the grown-up silhouette goes so goes the pint-size mode. This year cape collars are big stuff for Mama, and small daughter has her own edition on her 1950 coat.

Fur trimmings also are important in the winter picture for style-wise women, and fur trimmings pop up on schedule also for the pigtail crowd.

Fabrics are of first importance in the overall fall and winter picture for adult pace-setters and fabrics are making news in the small fry style lineup also. This fall you'll find handsome broadcloth done up in dressy coats for daughters as well as for mothers. You'll be seeing new American-made tweeds for both big and little fashion leaders. You'll find kitten's ear fleeces for well dressed women of all ages.

Since now is the time when most mothers go shopping for back-to-school clothes, the shops are prepared with coats as well as dresses and sweaters for the sub-sub-debs, and all show the results of new and skilled designing.

Gone is the day when little sister was content with a navy blue regulation referee from the ages of 6 to 12. Today she wants style like Mom's—and today she's getting it.

Coats for the youngest set—up to age 6—come, of course, with matching leggings or the newer slacks with inner cuff construction. Coats for ages 7 to 12 usually are without leggings, and for these style conscious ages wise mothers buy the smart knee-length English socks.

Hal Boyle Says

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, Aug. 4—(P)—Every year or so a man opens his morning mail and finds a pleasant surprise — or a real opportunity. That's how lucky I am today.

I've got a chance to take a free ride to Mars!

Each day I get all sorts of odd invitations. One day somebody wants me to go over to the Waldorf-Astoria to attend a cocktail party for a new tractor. Another day an opportunity comes to be a judge in a contest to "pick the most beautiful pigeon in America." It turned out to be a complete waste of time — all the pigeons had feathers.

First Offer

But this is the first time anybody ever offered me a hitch-hike ride to Mars. I would be suspicious that somebody was just pulling my leg except for one thing — the man who made the offer said he had already been there himself. So it must be the 24-karat McCoy.

The invitation came in a letter from a gentleman in Missouri and his first name isn't Harry.

"I have just come back from Mars, and I had a wonderful trip," he wrote. He explained he wanted me to accompany him on his second trip, because he wished the people of earth to have a word picture of life on Mars. He said that as a professional writer I would be able to do this better than he.

Sounded Attractive

The voyage certainly sounded attractive as he outlined it.

"We will be gone only a few days," he wrote, "for the simple reason that our rocket ship begins to gain speed as soon as it leaves the atmosphere, and we travel about as fast as light."

"The only hazardous part of this trip would be in landing when we get there. However, our pilot is so efficient that, when we strike the atmosphere of Mars, he can sail about the planet three or four times until our speed is slow enough to make a smooth landing."

What is Mars like? Here's what the man says:

"I'll not go much into the details of the conditions that I found there, because it was more wonderful than my vocabulary is capable of telling you."

"The planet revolves as ours does, but in place of having a magnetic pole, it also revolves north to south, which makes the temperature uniform the year round."

Glorious Temperature

"There are no seasons. It is all just one glorious temperature. They have no pests, such as flies and fleas."

"The food grows on trees. They have inner spring mattresses that are growing on bushes. There is no rain except just as the sun comes up in the morning."

"There is no work to be done. Everything that man desires is right there at his hand. The springs that come out of the little hills, which they call mountains, have a flavor with an intoxicating effect."

"Well, at first I felt tempted to go. But I decided it would put too great a strain on my honesty."

If I got to Mars and found food growing on the trees and joy juice bubbling out of the rocks, I wouldn't want to come back and advertise the place. That'd empty California overnight, depopulate Texas — and crowd Mars.

No, if Mars was like that I'd

Following the business meeting and demonstration, Mrs. Long played several numbers on the accordion, the last selection being, "This Little 4-H Light of Mine," which all the members and guests sang to close the meeting.

Refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served. Visitors present were: Ruby Fay and Ella Christine Silsby, members of the Quisenberry 4-H club who are enrolled in the poultry project; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Landis and daughter, Sharon.

Coat, Dress Duet in Color Harmony

By Epsie Kinard
NEA Fashion Editor
For that steady companionship between a dress and a coat, colors that link the two together by means of contrasting fabric touches make outstanding ensembles. Take the sheer worsted dress of buckskin brown; for example, which is linked to a wool coat of repubic blue by narrow bandings of matching blue which edge the neckline, yoke and sleeves of the dress. Another coat and dress is identified as an ensemble by the bright bond of Custer red woolen Blazing across the bodice of a dress of black wool jersey, yoked with white, is a stripe of Custer red, which is a color repeated in a short swagger coat of heavy wool tweed.

and would tell if secrecy was assured. Somebody saw the killer at or near the scene, overheard a snatch of conversation, found a clue, caught a glimpse of a license plate. Those who knew were directed to do this:

Type or print the facts on plain paper. Sign with any number with six digits in it. Once in the lower left corner and once in the lower right corner. Tear off one of the corners and hide it. Mail the letter to P. O. Box 3444, Chicago.

The Sun-Times keeps the original letters. Those deemed worthy of investigation are copied, and the copies are turned over to the police.

If the information results in conviction, the informant's number will be published. Then the informant can send a representative — his clergyman or lawyer,

"Secret Witness" Plan Spreads as New Weapon

By William J. Conway
AP Newsfeature Writer

CHICAGO — (P) — A new secret weapon is being wielded in the war against crime.

It is the secret witness plan. It gives men or women who know something about a crime a chance to turn in their information and collect a reward without revealing their names.

The idea has spread rapidly in the last three months. It has been put to work against killers in Chicago and Los Angeles, against murderers and ballot burglars in Kansas City, against gunmen in Detroit, against hooded mobsters in Birmingham, Ala.

Sponsors — newspapers in some places, groups of citizens in others — have offered a total of $438,000 in rewards. None of the money has been passed out yet. An informant can't collect until the case ends in conviction.

The chief result, so far, has been information. Hundreds of letters have been received. Many of them offered information that looked helpful. In Chicago, for instance, 226 letters came in during the first two months. Forty-one contained what seemed to be good leads. Two of the Chicago cases have resulted in arrests.

Community Service
The Chicago Sun-Times conceived the secret witness plan as a community service. It was sparked by an FBI report that Chicago had 326 murders in 1948, highest number for any city in the U. S. The starting switch was pulled last May 9.

perhaps — to the city editor with his fragment of the letter paper, with the Kansas City Star. If the piece of paper and numbers match, the agent will get the reward.

Two Arrests

So far, the newspaper has been able to report the arrests on two of the murders it reviewed. States attorney John S. Boyle said coded letters provided the clues in both of them. The victims, Herman Engelhard and John Onesto, were elderly men who were killed by robbers last year. Five men and a woman are being held for trial on murder charges in the two cases.

Other secret witness programs vary but all are built on the same general framework.

The Los Angeles Mirror put the plan in operation May 13. It was aimed at clearing up 20 murders. And $5,000 was offered for clues that would lead to a solution in each case. Hundreds of letters were received. The mail also brought some interesting by products — tips on other crimes.

An anonymous committee of citizens adopted the secret witness system in Kansas City in June to funnel information to a county grand jury. Rewards totaling $25,000 were posted in cash with the Kansas City Star.

How Money Is Earmarked

The money has been earmarked this way:

$10,000 in the slaying of Wolf C. Riman, golf club manager.

$10,000 in the theft of ballots from the courthouse vault two years ago — a theft that has stymied prosecution of vote fraud charges.

$5,000 in the torture death of John A. Hoover, contractor and mining promoter.

Tips go directly to the grand jury through a postoffice box. The jurors apparently have received some promising material. They asked, through the Star, for more information from three writers known only by their numbers.

Biggest sum is the $200,000 offered by the CIO Auto Workers June 11 in Detroit. The purpose is to bring in clues in the shotgun attacks on Walter P. Reuther, president of the union, April 20, 1948, and his brother, Victor, last May 24. Walter's right arm was shattered. Victor lost his right eye.

To Prevent Fear

witness device to free any informers of fear of reprisal. Earlier reward offers had brought in no fruitful information.

The Veterans Committee against Crime and Violence — made up of representatives of ex-GI organizations — set up the plan late in June in Birmingham. Citizens chipped in more than $3,000 in reward money.

Prime aim was to get evidence in flogging cases. Many letters came to the committee and the three cooperating newspapers. Information was passed along to a grand jury. There was no indication of the part played by the code letters but the jury returned 44 indictments early in July.

The secret witness system continues to function. And the vet committee chairman, Carle Wells, served this notice:

"The fight against masked mob violence has just begun."

Butter-nut BREAD'S GOOD IDEAS

KITCHEN TRICK

QUICK COCONUT BREAD pudding—dip slices of bread in evaporated milk, roll in shredded coconut and bake in well-buttered baking dish in hot oven for 15 minutes.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

EGGS SEPARATE more easily when chilled, so separate them immediately on removal from refrigerator. Then, for greatest volume, allow whites to warm to room temperature before beating.

RECIPE

SANTA BARBARA SALAD

1 can tomato soup 1 1/2 c. celery, chopped
3 pkgs. cream cheese 1/2 green pepper, minced
2 Tbsp. gelatine 8 stuffed olives, chopped
1/2 c. cold water 3 green onions, chopped

Soften gelatine in cold water. Bring soup to boiling point, add cream cheese, stir until smooth. Add gelatine. When mixture is syrupy, add mayonnaise and mixed chopped vegetables. Chill in molds. Serve on lettuce, garnished with olives and mayonnaise. Serves 10.

FRESH AS A BREEZE

ALWAYS...That's good Butter-nut Bread in the bright blue and white checked gingham wrapper. Butter-nut Bread is always deliciously fresh and rich-tasting. Butter-nut is vitamin-enriched, too, making it as nutritious as it is delicious!

Sedalia, Mo., Aug. 4—Several more Missouri high school bands have indicated their intention of attending the Missouri State Fair here, August 21-28, according to Guy Peabody, band superintendent, who has had assurance from at least twenty-five first-rate aggregations that they will be here in full force. For the first time

Chiefs to Play Knob Noster Friday Night

Former Athletics on Opposing Team Will Play in Tournament

The Sedalia Chiefs play at Liberty park Friday night instead of tonight and will meet Knob Noster, which boasts an extra strong team, built for the Holden tournament, to be played soon.

Change in Playing Dates

The Chiefs, due to the opening of business houses downtown on Thursday night have changed part of their schedule to Friday night. This change is being made to cooperate with the business establishments which are helping to sponsor the team financially.

Manager "Dutch" Hawley has announced he will use either Gene May or Bobby Brown on the mound.

Five Junior Legion players of the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, have signed contracts with the Chiefs of Ban Johnson baseball. They are Bobby Brown and Bob Ray, pitchers; Dale Ruffin and Bill Holst, outfielders and Ralph Walker, an infielder. Due to the rookie rule of the Central Missouri B. J. league, it was impossible to sign more of the Legion players, but they will be eligible next spring.

To Columbia Sunday

Sunday night the Chiefs journey to Columbia for a league game. Wednesday night, August 10 the Chillicothe ball club comes to Sedalia for a league contest. Katz of Kansas City will meet the Chiefs on Friday night, August 12.

Last Tuesday night the Chiefs lost a heart breaker to Glasgow town team by a 2-4 score. A seventh inning triple by Prevert contributed to the Sedalia loss. "Big Jim" Egbert pitched the Glasgow game and held the team to five hits.

Near No-Hitter For Hal White

By The Associated Press

Hal White, Toledo righthander and former Detroit Tiger pitcher, came within a whisker of a no-

hit game last night as he held Minneapolis to one hit and retired the last 20 men in order to grab a 4 to 1 decision for the last-place Mud Hens.

Jack Maguire, first Miller batter, lashed a hit past first to open play and went to third when Bob Mavis let a double play chance by Bob Hofman go into center field. Bama Rowell bounced a high one off the plate for the first out, and Maguire scored the Miller's only run.

Not another Minneapolis batsman reached base except Maguire, who got on again in the third on an error.

In the second game of the double header, Vernon Kennedy held Toledo to five hits as Minneapolis breezed to a 11 to 0 triumph.

St. Paul evened its series with league-leading Indianapolis by scoring a 5 to 3 decision over the Tribe.

Kurt Krieger outpitched Frank Hiller at Columbus shut out Kansas City 1 to 0. The Red Birds bunched two of their four hits in the fifth inning for the one score.

A ninth inning single by second baseman Charlie Harrington, his fourth hit of the game, gave Louisville a 6 to 5 victory over Milwaukee.

Howard Pollet Very Sharp Against Braves

Victory No. 14 For Lefthanded Ace of Dyer Pitching Staff

By The Associated Press

Howard Pollet was very sharp last night and so the St. Louis Cardinals had no trouble at all in disposing of the Boston Braves 7 to 0.

His Work Cut Out

Pollet had his work cut out for him, since Brooklyn had beaten Pittsburgh in the afternoon and he blazed right into it and gave up only four hits, keeping the Redbirds that slender half game in front of the stubborn Dodgers.

It was victory No. 14 for the lefthanded ace of Eddie Dyer's pitching staff. It was his fourth shutout and his fifth straight success.

This afternoon it's up to Al Brazle to see if he can do as well against Johnny Sain in the series finale. Brooklyn also winds up a four-game series in a day game at Pittsburgh.

Pollet struck out six and walked only one last night in one of his best games of the year.

Start Scoring Early

His mates opened the scoring in the first, when Chuck Diering singled, moved to third on a ground out and was doubled home by Nippy Jones.

In the fourth inning the Redbirds unloaded on Johnny Antonelli, 19-year-old lefthander and knocked him out. Five unearned runs came in, the result of two errors, a walk, three singles and a long fly.

The Cards now have won 11 and tied two of the last 15 games.

In Boston yesterday afternoon the Browns also ran into some sharp pitching by Ellis Kinder and the Red Sox took a 9 to 3 decision. Kinder struck out 14, just four short of the American league record. Joe Ostrowski held the Boston at bay until the sixth, when they kayoed him.

Pro Basketball One Huge Happy Family

NEW YORK, Aug. 4—(P)—Big time professional basketball now is just one huge happy family of 18 members.

From Boston to Denver the play-for-pay boys will be a part of the national basketball association. This octopus-like creature was formed here yesterday by the merger of the basketball association of America and the national basketball league.

The new lineup: Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Rochester, Ft. Wayne, Ind., Chicago, Minneapolis, and St. Louis from the BAA Syracuse, Anderson, Ind., Sheboygan, Wis., Waterloo, Ia., the tri-cities (Moline, Davenport, Rock Island), Denver, Indianapolis and Milwaukee from the NBL.

The clubs will meet in Chicago a week from today in an attempt to smooth out the rough edges and tackle the monstrous task of a practical schedule.

Blues to Play a K.C. Lumber Team

The Cash Bargain Lumber Co. of Kansas City is coming to Sedalia Sunday to meet the Sedalia Blues at Housel park. The game is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The lumbermen are coming to Sedalia with a seasonal record of sixteen victories against four losses. Manager Joe Haas of the visitors boasts of one of the fastest and strongest playing clubs of Kansas City.

Among the games they have won are: TWA 1 to 0, Sheffield Steel 3 to 2, Smithville twice, first game a fourteen inning affair 4 to 3 and the second a 12-inning game 3 to 2. The record of the Blues likewise is outstanding and local fans are promised a well played contest.

The Jr. Blues have signed to play the Millers Motor Co. boys' team of Kansas City on Sunday, August 21, at Housel park. The Sedalia team, a member of the Boys' league, will return the Kansas City game later in the season. The boys are selling tickets to finance the game here and pay their expenses to Kansas City.

The Jr. Blues are sponsored by the Northeast Sedalia Athletic Club.

K. of C. Defeats Emma 8 to 6

On Monday the Knights of Columbus softball team journeyed to Emma and defeated that team by a score of 8 to 6, scoring 3 runs in the first and 4 in the fifth. Lyles was on the mound for the Knights and after a shaky start when Emma scored 1 in the first and 4 in the second he settled down and pitched a steady game. C. Weller and Means had two hits for the Knights.

Score by innings:

K. of C. .... 000 040 1-8 8 2

Emma ..... 140 010 0-6 7 2

Batteries: K. of C.—Lyles and Ash; Emma—V. Bleedoff and W. Schelp

Windsor 3, K. of C. 1

On Tuesday night the Knights were defeated by Windsor at Windsor in a very close and hard fought game by a score of 3 to 1. The Knights scored 1 run in the first inning on a walk to C. Weller, a sacrifice, force out and fly by Bergman. Windsor scored 2 in the second and 1 in the third primarily by walks and errors.

Schwermer was on the mound for the Knights and pitched a very fine game allowing only 3 hits and walking 5, but was matched by the fine hurling of Zollicker of Windsor who allowed only 2 hits and walked 2.

Score by innings:

K. of C. .... 100 000 0-1 2 2

Windsor ..... 020 100 X-3 3 1
